

BATTLE FOR MATANG FORTS NOW INDECISIVE STAGE

Japanese Infantry Fail To Advance Their Positions In Severe Fighting

PINCER MOVEMENT BY CHINESE

Hankow, June 30. THE BATTLE FOR THE POSSESSION OF THE VILLAGE AND FORTS OF MATANG has now entered the decisive stage, according to a statement made by a Chinese military spokesman today. Reports from the front say that fighting is very severe but that Japanese infantry, backed by planes and naval batteries have not succeeded in pushing forward their positions.

On the other hand, under cover of their artillery, the Japanese landed more troops at Yangtze and Tatukow, both situated in the south of Anking on the banks of the Yangtze River. The boom across the river is being interruptedly bombarded by Japanese warships but the result this continuous bombardment is still uncertain.

In view of the possible consequences of the destruction of the boom, which would enable Japanese warships to advance stream towards Yangtze, the Chinese reinforcements have been sent to Matang in order to take necessary counter-measures. The forces on both sides are reported to be displaying great activity. It is stated that Japanese troops advancing west of Anking along the road from Yangtze to the sea have not made any progress (trans-oceanic).

VIOLENT BATTLE

Nanchang, June 30. A battle of unparalleled violence broke out at Yangtze, the Japanese troops, supported by air and naval craft, launched a counter-attack after having lost the strategic height on the morning of June 28.

Wimbledon Surprise

HELEN JACOBI IN FINAL

London, June 30. Miss Helen Jacobs, of the United States, today entered the final of the women's singles championship at Wimbledon when she defeated her fellow countrywoman, Miss Alice Marble, by scores of 6-4.

Miss Jacobs confounded odds who had not seeded her.

She steadily slowed down as Marble's drives with clever shots.

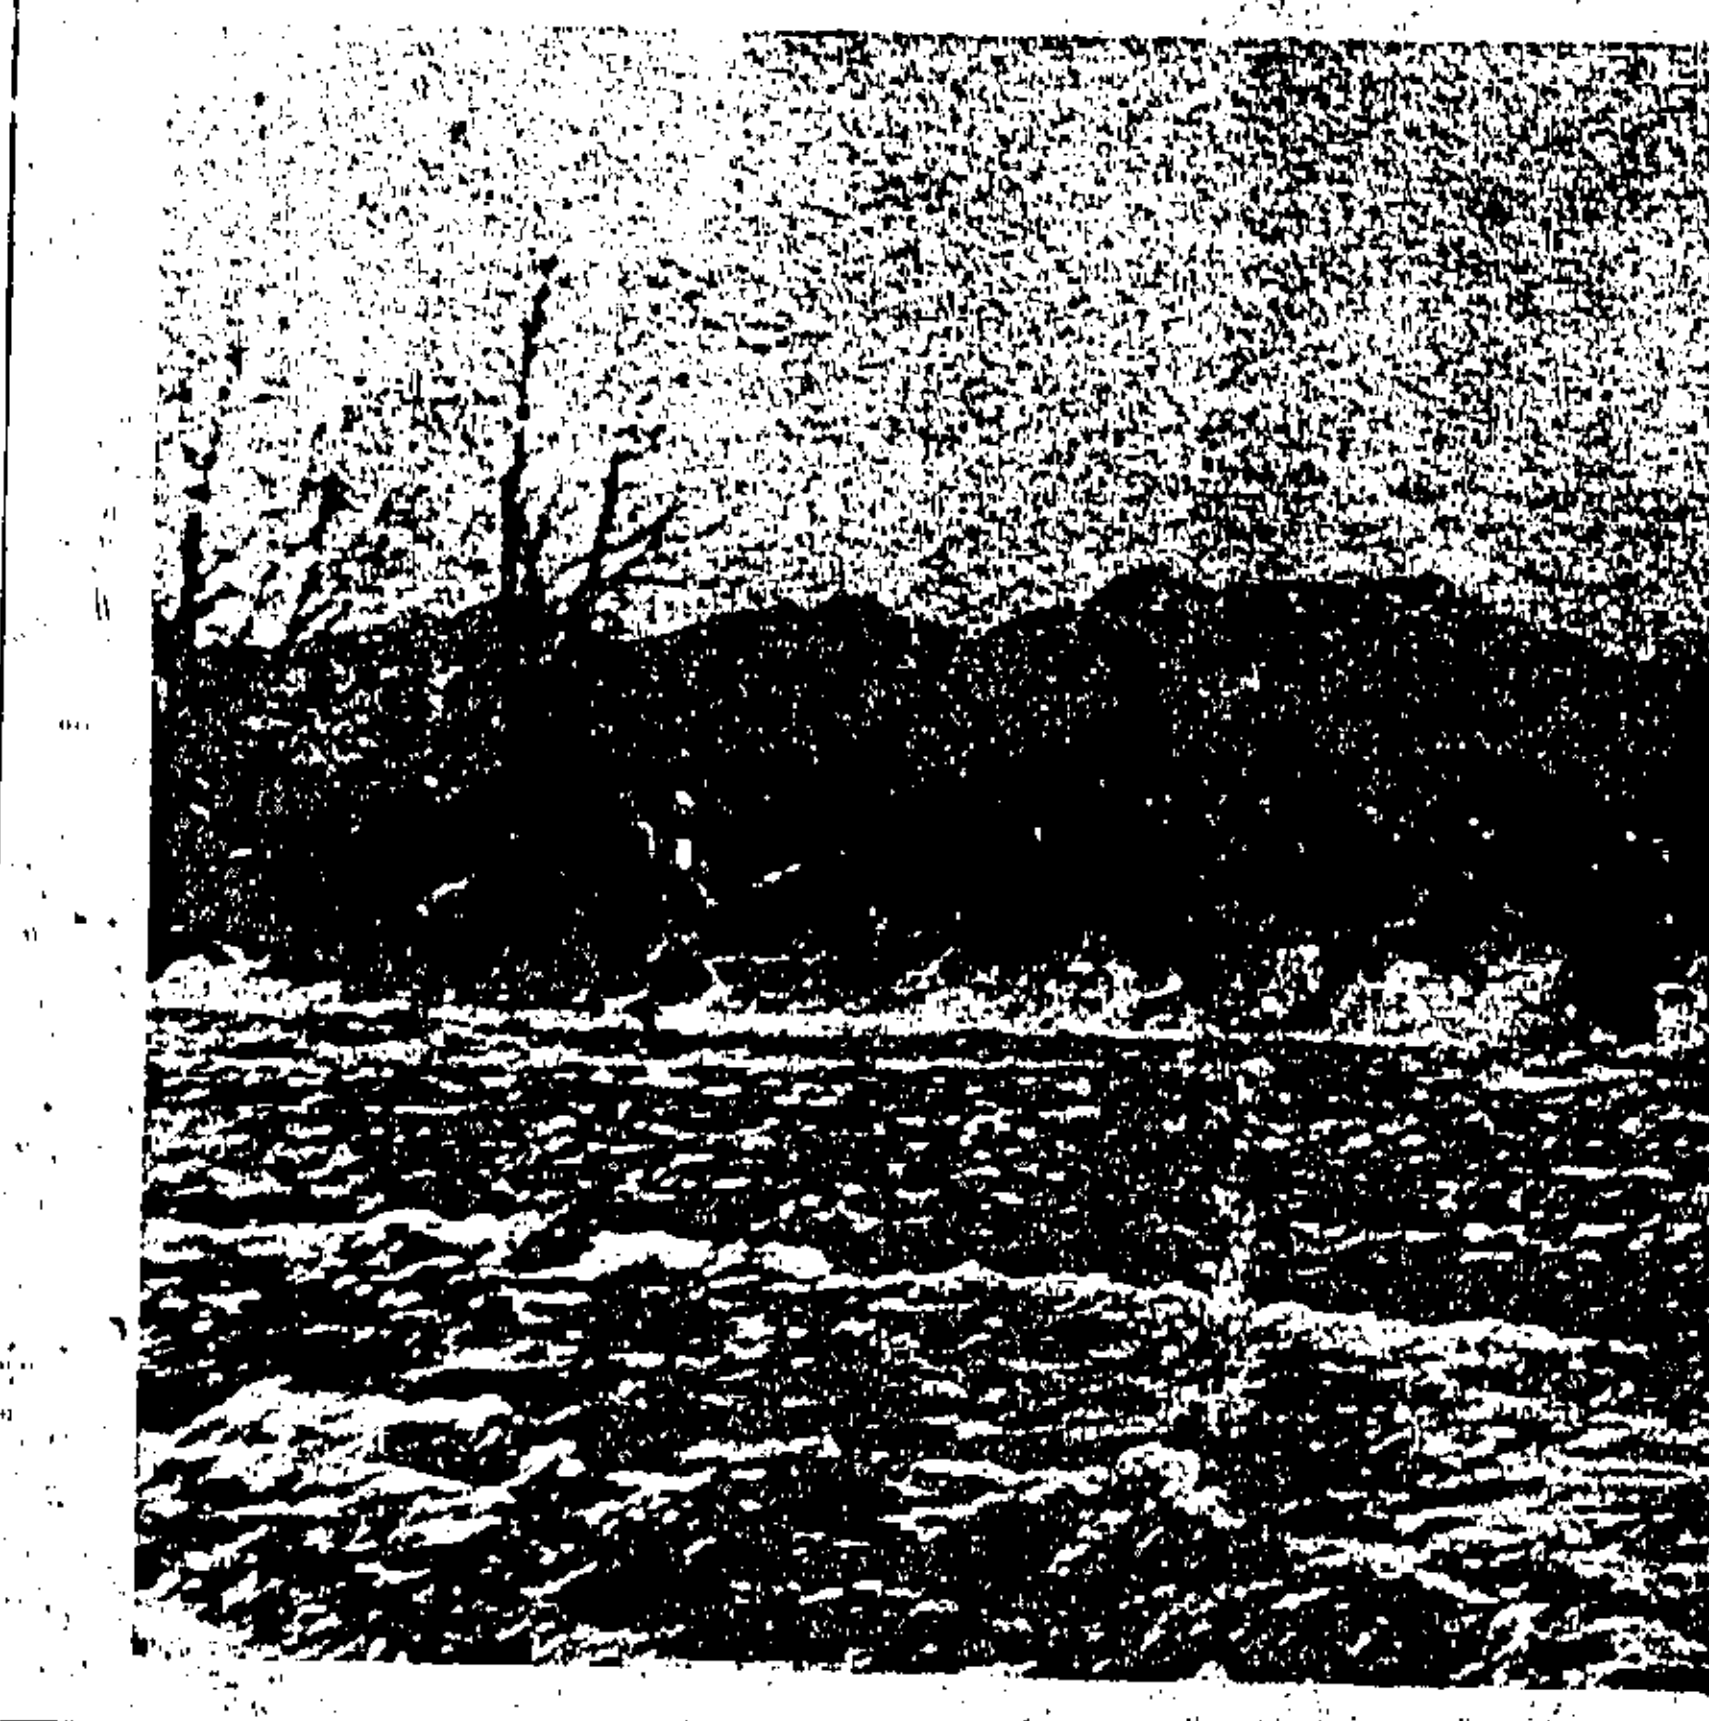

Miss Jacobs is the first unseeded player ever to reach the final, which she is appearing for the first time. She won the title in 1936.

In the quarter-finals of the seeded doubles, an unseeded pair, Ronald Shakes and Miss J. Saunders, scored a great win over the seeded pair, Jacques Bruguiere and Miss Thelma Coyne (Australia). The British pair of 1-6, 6-1, 7-5. (Reuter).

GOVERNOR BROADCASTS FROM Z.B.W.

Birthday Celebrations Marked By Studio Talks

The tenth anniversary of the Hong Kong Broadcasting Studio was observed yesterday with due ceremony, the main item on the day's programme being the address, from the Studio, by His Excellency the Governor. Speeches were also made by the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith and Messrs. E. I. Wynne-Jones and F. R. Garion.

The programme broadcast from Z.B.W. yesterday was an all-studio one, most of the leading artists of the Colony taking part in a programme befitting the occasion.

SIR GEOFFREY NORTHCOTE

His Excellency the Governor delivered the following speech over Z.B.W.:

I do not know to which era belonged "The Good Old Days" in which some people are wont to profess that they would rather have had their existence, but certainly they must have been before the coming of the Wireless, and in that fact lies, perhaps, one of the reasons why the good old—rather silly old—phrase "The Good Old Days" is less often heard today than it used to be.

For the wireless has very few friends, while its friends are legion, and the reasons for that are multifarious indeed, as the extracts from the B.B.C. fan-mail, published in the latest Handbook, show. One writer elicited such full and sincere concurrence from me that I must quote him. Speaking of the Test Match accounts, he said "I had great difficulty in prolonging my illness so as to have breakfast in bed and to listen in comfort." One feels that such praise comes straight from the heart.

This evening we are, so to speak, at a birthday party, so perhaps I shall be forgiven if I appear so far not to have taken my subject with proper seriousness: for all that, it is certainly one which calls for decorous treatment. It is a common saying that with the swift growth of scientific discovery the world is quickly growing smaller; but to my mind no modern marvel of science has so annihilated space

Chinese Envoy Returning From Berlin

Berlin, June 30. Dr. Cheng Tien-fong, the Chinese Ambassador, is returning to China shortly.

The decision coincides with the recall of the German Ambassador to China, Dr. O. P. Trautmann, and it is believed here that the return of the Ambassadors was influenced by the recent changes in the German Foreign Office with the consequent pro-Japanese policy.

It is understood in Chinese circles that five German military advisers are remaining in China. (Reuter).

LARGE NUMBER OF JAPANESE SOLDIERS KILLED

Following Engagement In South Shansi

SINKIANG BESIEGED

Tungkuang, June 30. FOLLOWING FORTY-EIGHT HOURS' continuous heavy fighting on June 27 and 28, a full-scale pre-emptive attack in south Shansi, which is still under siege. A large number of Japanese troops, it is stated, were killed or wounded during the engagement.

At Anyi bordering the Yenchih Lake, the Chinese siege of the city still remains despite desperate Japanese attempts to break through the Chinese cordon.

Sinkiang, another south Shansi town besieged by the Chinese, was the scene of a heavy encounter on the night of June 28 when the Japanese troops inside made a determined bid for freedom and attacked the Chinese positions east of the city. Fighting is still proceeding. (Central News).

LOYANG RAID

Loyang, June 30. More than eighty people were killed, many more wounded, and twenty houses were demolished during two air raids conducted by seven Japanese planes today.

Altogether 40 bombs were dropped by the raiders on the east and west stations and outside the eastern gate. During the air attack, Chinese anti-aircraft guns went into action and kept the enemy planes at a high altitude.

BETTER VALUE
THAN EVER

The Gillette No. 77 set illustrated here, which contains the latest Gillette razor, three Blue Gillette slotted blades and two blade holders in a new type of moulded box, has these definite advantages.

The razor is made in two pieces instead of three, as formerly, thus making it easier and quicker to clean, assemble and use. The blades are made by the new electrical-tempering process. They give not only closer, cleaner shaves than you have ever had before, but also more shaves per blade.

The case is ideal for hot and humid climates as it is so easy to keep clean.

Ask your dealer to show you a No. 77 Set—one of the most popular that Gillette have ever made.

HONG KONG MINES, LTD. MEETING

Lead Produced
Acceptable

The annual meeting of Hong Kong Mines, Limited, was held in the offices of the Company, Prince's Building, yesterday.

Mr. C. C. Stark, (managing director) presided and there were present:—Mr. J. M. Wong (director) L. R. Nielson, Esq., Nielson and Company, Inc., L. R. Nielson and Co., Ltd., Messrs. F. Schreiber, Sydney Baxter, Wong Kit-wan, H. O. Odell Esq. (for International Investments Ltd.), W. G. Poy Leung Yau-cheung, B. Wong Tape, J. R. Paton, H. J. Armstrong (representing Messrs. Deacons) and T. A. Martin, for the Secretaries.

The chairman said:—But for the calamitous drop in the price of lead from £37 per ton to something in the neighbourhood of £13, our showing would have been very much better. I would remind you, however, that in mining, where so much time has to be given to experiment and development in the first year, a loss can generally be anticipated. If however lead had maintained its price we would have been able to make a very handsome profit.

Since the date of Messrs. Nielson and Co's report, our stock of 3785 tons of concentrates has been sold to buyers in Europe exclusively. Earlier sales would have been made but for the fact that Nielson and Co. felt there was every prospect that prices would improve, while they also were negotiating for sale of one year's output on very favourable terms in Manila. Unfortunately this sale fell through at the last moment.

REDUCING EXPENSES
I would explain that payment for concentrates is made on the average price of the calendar month following the month of arrival. With the exception of initial shipments of 260 tons therefore, the price we will receive will be based on the average price for July and August.

Everything possible has been done to reduce expense to a minimum, and we are making another effort to secure a further reduction in freight rates, as present rates handicap us a lot.

As previously advised, we are contemplating increasing the milling machinery to handle a further 100 tons per day. This can be done at comparatively little cost, as provision for this addition was made when the mill building was erected. Although the cost of labour will be slightly increased, the general overhead will not be increased in any way.

PRICE OF LEAD
In conclusion, I would reiterate that our success or failure is entirely dependent on the price of lead. We can only say that from the number of inquiries we have received lately, we sincerely trust that demand of this product will shortly raise it to its former levels.

I am glad to say that our product has been found very acceptable by smelters in Europe, and we have secured smelting charges considerably below present current rates.

The Report and Statement of accounts were adopted, proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. Wong Kit-wan.

Messrs. David Wai Kwok-su, and J. M. Wong, who retired in rotation and being eligible, were re-elected directors of the Company. Mr. S. Baxter proposing and Mr. H. Odell seconding.

Messrs. T. A. Martin and Company after having relinquished the Secretaryship, were re-elected as auditors of the Company, at an annual remuneration of $3,000.

CAFE DEFRAUDED OF CAKES

Yip Chung-chow, clerk, and Cheung Wah, delivery cooler, employed at the Maxwell Cafe, Nathan Road, appeared before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday on charges of defrauding the cafe of 10 boxes of fancy cakes.

It was stated that the clerk would write out the delivery order, pay for it, and fill the boxes with more than the specified number of cakes on the delivery order. The delivery cooler would assist in the sale of the surplus cakes.

Mr. D. E. Hingenthal, of Marcel Cafe, appeared as complainant.

A fine of $200 or, in default, four months' hard labour, was imposed on the first defendant, and a fine of $25 or, in default, one month's hard labour, was imposed on the second defendant.

AMAH'S COURAGE IN RESISTING ROBBER TOLD IN COURT

The story of how an amah, inspired by courage and her loyalty to her mistress, attacked a robber who was armed with a kitchen knife, was told in the Central Court yesterday before Mr. Butters. The incident occurred about 2 a.m. on June 4 when the occupants of No. 38, Morrison Hill Road were paid an unwelcome visit.

Miss Pak Suet was writing a letter, with her cousin Miss Yuen Lan-ying keeping her company. A noise came from the kitchen and Miss Yuen, feeling that something was amiss, went to investigate. When she reached the kitchen she was confronted by a man armed with a kitchen knife.

Detective Inspector W. N. Darlings, who prosecuted, said that when the stranger saw Miss Yuen he caught hold of her and threatened her with the knife to keep silent. The man took her into the dining room, and turned his attention to Miss Pak.

The amah, Au Hing, who had also heard the commotion, came out and together with Miss Yuen attacked the man. With dramatic suddenness, the amah managed to overcome the man and snatched the knife from him. She went to the rear of the house and raised the alarm.

CONTINUED ATTACK

The man continued to attack Miss Pak and demanded the key to the wardrobe, but the amah returned and, together with Miss Yuen, forced him into the kitchen and locked the door behind him.

A short while later, a Chinese detective and an Indian constable came to the house. A man was brought in who was readily recognised by the three inmates as the robber.

Yesterday an unemployed mafioo named Wong Tin was charged with assault with intent to rob. Miss Pak and her cousin and the amah identified Wong as the man who had attempted to rob them on June 4.

Defendant denied the accusation. The case was remanded till 2.30 p.m. on Monday, July 4.

THE LOCH NESS "MONSTER"

Plan For Scientific Inquiry

TRAINED OBSERVERS

Captain D. J. Munro, R.N. (Retired), who went to sea in the Merchant Service in 1880 at the age of 11 and made five voyages round the world in clipper ships, has written a pamphlet entitled "Loch Ness Mystery." The "mystery" of the loch is, of course, the "monster" whose existence was first hinted at nearly five years ago, says The Times.

Captain Munro, who wishes to solve the mystery of the loch, makes in his pamphlet suggestions for a scientific investigation, and states that if sufficient financial support is forthcoming a meeting of those interested will be called, and a limited liability company, with one shilling shares, formed. "It must be understood," he writes, "that no dividend can be expected. At the same time, if good shots are obtained by the cameras, the results may be most valuable and be sufficient to recoup the subscribers for the outlay and perhaps something more."

As for the form the survey should take, Captain Munro "places out of bounds all plans based on aeroplanes, airships, bathospheres, submarines, &c., as being unsuitable.

To observe it successfully, perfect quietness in water and air is essential; this can only be secured by observing from fixed stations ashore and afloat. Undoubtedly it is very timid, and dives immediately any strange noise is heard, such as a motor horn or propeller of a motor-boat."

OBSERVATION STATIONS

Captain Munro continues:—"If the following four points could be discovered in connection with the creature I think all interests would be satisfied:—(1) A silhouette taken from a position as nearly on the same plane as possible; (2) length; (3) speed of travel on the surface; (4) food."

There should be three fixed stations, he suggests, so situated that they can be seen from each other. Each station should be provided with telephoto camera fitted with suitable lens for long-range work, range finder, cinema camera with suitable lens for long-range work, stop watch, light meter, and powerful binoculars.

Captain Munro is puzzled by the source of the food which an animal of the size of "monster" must consume. Trout, pike, salmon, and eels are known to be in the loch, but trout would be the only all-the-year-round food supply, "and a creature of the size described must be very nimble to be able to make a meal of them."

NO SIGNS OF ATTACK

There are no large masses of rushes or grass on the banks of the loch to give the creature a vegetable diet; and the trees do not show any signs of being attacked. In the deeper parts of the loch there may be an unknown food supply, and this could only be found by suitable trawling gear.

Coming to the cost, Captain Munro estimates that £1,500 would be necessary to carry on operations at the three stations for three months. He suggests

FOUR CASES OF CHOLERA

Four cases of cholera were reported to the health authorities on Wednesday.

Other diseases notified were eight cases of enteric fever, four cases of measles, three cases of cerebro-spinal fever, three cases of dysentery, and one case of diphtheria.

FINED FOR SELLING CUT FRUIT

Lam Hong, licence holder at the Kowloon City market, was yesterday fined $50 at the Kowloon Court by Mr. Barnett on a charge of having, on June 9, exhibited for sale pears which had been sliced into several pieces and which were in a condition of rot.

Li Fu, stall foki, stated in evidence, that the pears were not cut and were not for sale. He was fined $10 on a charge of having given false testimony.

that the men needed for the survey should be recruited from the retired personnel of the Royal Navy, and he would have at each station one naval officer in charge of a trained observer, one marine (private) or bluejacket, and two others, chosen from volunteers.

Each station would have one observer always on watch from daylight to twilight. The floating station might be an old barge or drifter.

CONFIDE IN FAITH
PRIOR

Modern asks why she should not go away for unofficial week-ends and have a good time before she settles down and marries.

Your letter provided the evidence of foolishly wrong thinking, which may be accounted for by the stupidly dangerous arguments of your young man friend. Examine the man's arguments, and what do you find? Selfishness, thoughtlessness, lack of protection, no wish for marriage or anything decent, and a wholly disagreeable outlook.

Life. A good time of that sort has frequently ended in tragedy. Ambitions is almost despairing in a workless unhappy state through not being trained for any calling when younger and being compelled to work at home in the country.

You are nearly 25 and must not give in now. It is understandable when you feel desperate after trying so hard, for so long, to assist yourself. As you understand and know your present work, stick to it and try to develop your present job. By doing the work you want to do, however slow and small to start with, you would be vocationally adjusted and therefore much more at peace mentally, as well as being more satisfied.

Old-fashion asks if she has the right to separate her engaged son of 28 and his fiancée, who has not lived a very good life.

Sometimes when a son is young it may be wise to restrict his movements until he sees sense. But your son is a full adult, independent, educated and knows precisely what he is doing. He has been told in full of all the girl has done and not done, is satisfied, and proclaims his faith in her. She has told you of her deep love for your son and forewarned her old wayward acquaintances, and proved already that in her case a genuine affection which she did not know she could feel has altered her whole outlook. I feel it would be wiser of you to let them work it out their own way and try to encourage them all you can.

Snubbed describes a party, an abrupt fancy for a man present, and her astonishment when he passed her in the street a few days later.

You are regarding the incident from a faulty viewpoint, so try to look at the whole affair practically. The party was, to say the least of it, not a prim one. Many foolish things are said when drinks are stimulating the mind, and quite possibly the young man did not even remember making those rather naive remarks concerning your appearance, etc.

Moreover, you were in evening dress, and in the street you would look vastly different. Again nobody can love a person met only once at an artificially bright gathering. Love grows with mutual knowledge and understanding and lives on purpose and shared plans. It was a momentary infatuation, which you would be far wiser to smile at.

Questioner writes: You have taken up the ladies side of many social questions, but what about us males?

There are several minor faults which we men have to put up with, it seems.

Why do the ladies put powder and paint on their faces in public? Can't they get their stockings straight?

Why are the majority of women poor dancers?

And why do they think every man is out to take advantage of the fact they are women?

Dear Questioner: First of all, think how sad a state exists—no one can see themselves as others do.

Your questions are easily answered, but why don't you in a subtle way inform the offenders of their faults if this is a constant occurrence with friends of yours?

Regarding "making-up" in public. I cannot understand this myself. It is very poor taste. A woman should always retire to a dressing room for such personal needs. (Ladies please take note!). Your second question, the stockings? This I assure you is pure carelessness on the lady's or ladies' part, and no excuse for it.

ROUND

THE SHOPS

Smart Costume Jewellery - And - Other Things

Of course, all of us have been sale-minded in the past week. We are congratulating ourselves on our new outfits and at such bargain prices.

Now what you really need to finish off your new costume is an outstanding piece of jewellery, which is a most essential item this season.

In one of the Hong Kong stores there is a small jewellery section specialising in silver pieces, very heavy and rich in appearance. Large pins, rings, bracelets, earrings, and buckles. If you prefer your own design it can be made for you. This jewellery is a send-off for practically all costumes from slim cottons to afternoon and evening ensembles, and particularly if they are simple and plain in cut. The cost is small and well worth the cash invested.

WATER ACCESSORIES

There are very few days you do not go near the water to swim.

A basket is not always convenient to carry your swimming equipment in. Did you ever try a designed oiled silk or cotton print rubberised bag? They have drawstrings or zippers. Rubber lined with small compartments for that sunburn lotion or oil, creams, powder, comb and beauty essentials.

The swim suit cap, shoes and towel can all get inside, too. Not expensive and nothing to carry or check.

The same shop selling these bags has a swim cap you have been looking for. Many of you probably own one. The U.S. Howland rubber cap. No more hair soaking while you go swimming. This cap has a chin strap on the inside around the edge, a small row of rubber lines run which acts as a suction and keeps Neptune's water from gumming up your newly laundered tresses. The colour selection is not large now, but you can find one to harmonize at least.

NATURAL POSIES

Artificial flowers are always good news for certain costumes and occasions.

A specialty shop has a large variety on sale, colours and styles galore for you to choose from.

Buy several so you will not gnash your teeth next winter when you design a dress which just needs a posy to finish it off.

If you have not taken a jaunt to see what the sales offer, do so. The season has many days to go; the extra dress and accessories will be useful. Ladies, don't forget you are saving money.

For information as to where you can purchase or see the articles mentioned, phone Barbara Lee, 30251, or write 'The Daily Press' enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Why are the majority of women poor dancers? Now, just maybe on account of the men, they are supposed to lead. However, if the lady cannot follow there are several reasons. The main one in the Colony's pet dancing auditoriums is distraction. She is too busy looking at other people to be aware of what you are doing.

Maybe she has no sense of rhythm; then it is a hopeless case. Maybe she does not care for dancing. Next time take her to a cinema or a bridge game.

But if you are a good dancer there is no reason why three-fourths of your partners should not be able to dance with you and both enjoy it.

Your last question or statement is a trifle exaggerated, I fear.

At least half of the women today are smart, and if you are not careful they will "use the advantage of being a woman by taking advantage of you."

(Each week in this column, FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of 'The Daily Press'.)

Fashion PRE-VIEW

COTTON COMES INTO ITS OWN THIS SUMMER —

IF YOU ARE NOT BEAUTIFUL naturally, be beautiful artificially, but do be beautiful.

Women who spend money for permanents to make their hair curl, shy at having their eyebrows plucked to make them tidy. Others rouge their cheeks to give them colour but scorn to darken their eyelashes to make them interesting.

The truth appears to be that while it is attractive to look natural, very few women can get away with it. Artificial means must be used at certain points to get that "natural" beauty we all admire.

Fashions in make-up at the moment are more than ever on the side of the soft, charming and feminine appearance.

When certain lipsticks make the mouth hard and blatant, it's unattractive. If it softens the mouth and makes it glow then it is attractive.

If rouge ages the face and makes it mask-like, better leave it alone. If it denotes a becoming flush, then it is justified.

March yourself to a mirror with a good light. Use five minutes to review your face and mentally check up on the following:

LIPSTICK ABT

Do you apply your lipstick so that it leaves a severe line? Only one woman out of a hundred can get away with that. The correct and natural appearance is given when you soften your lips with a bit of cold cream or even powder base cream. Then rub the lipstick on to your little finger and draw this across your mouth, following the natural line.

Dull Gold Straw

Dull Gold is the color of Anne Shirley's rough straw hat with its tapering crown banded at the wide brim with dark brown grosgrain and caught in front with a triangular clip of natural wood. An 18-year-old star at RKO Radio studios, this cinnamon-topped actress turns in excellent performances in "Condemned Women".

Soften the edges with the little finger of the other hand. Now to leave an even surface press your lips together. If the mouth is too big, keep the red in towards the centre; if too small, then carry it to the extreme edges.

What about the mascara—Do you use an eyelash brush that has been better days, or that has not been washed for weeks and is clogged with black? Always be sure you wash your eyelash brush after each service it performs for you.

Now take a tiny spot of grease (cold cream or skinfood) between a dusting of dry rouge and fade it out in the same way. Finish by brushing the cheeks lightly with a complexion brush to give a smooth surface.

CARE OF EYELIDS

What about the eyelids? A little cream rubbed over your eye lids before you try to apply eye shadow makes it go on easier. It also helps you to blend the colour to a softer and more even tone. If you do not do this you are likely to have two black eyes.

Now take the shadow on your little finger and pat it in close to the lashes (if the eyes are round and wide) or right up over the lids

(if they are long and almond-shaped). Smooth it away until the depth required.

Of course, after all this you use the pencil on your eyebrows. Do not draw a harsh, definite line. It will give you a hard, staring expression.

For the natural effect, stroke the pencil on to the brows, not press right through to the skin. Then use a small eyebrow brush, and brush the brows lightly.

Try these rules of make-up on yourself with the correct colours for your type—and then smile at yourself in the mirror and say "So beauty is skin deep?"

NEWS ABOUT THE SERVICES

ROYAL NAVY

FIFTH SEA LORD

Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Ramsay has joined the Admiralty for a month's preliminary duty before taking up on July 19 the post of Fifth Sea Lord and Chief of Naval Air Services. The title of the post has been changed from that of Deputy Chief of Naval Staff (Air).

Rear-Admiral J. H. D. Cunningham, C.B., M.V.O., whom Sir Alexander Ramsay will relieve has been appointed Rear-Admiral Commanding the First Cruiser Squadron in the Mediterranean, in succession to Vice-Admiral C. E. Kennedy-Purvis, C.B., to date from October next.

Paymaster Commander B. O'F. Gregory, who has been secretary to Sir Alexander Ramsay in his previous commands, has also joined the Admiralty for service in that capacity.

H.M.S. GALATEA

The cruiser Galatea, Captain E. G. H. Bellars, has been recommissioned at Plymouth as an independent command for further service as flagship of the destroyer flotillas on the Mediterranean Station. She has been joined by her full engine-room complement and three-fifths of the remainder. The other two-fifths and the Royal Marine band will join on July 18. The Galatea will leave for Malta in August.

CHANGES OF STATION IN INDIA

The following are changes in the programme of troop movements in India next winter:—

2nd Battalion, The Prince of Wales's Volunteers will move from Quetta to Bombay.

1st Battalion, The Cheshire Regiment will move from Bombay to the Sudan.

1st Battalion, The Somerset Light Infantry will move from Poona to Peshawar.

2nd Battalion, The Highland Light Infantry will move from Peshawar to Karachi.

1st Battalion, The King's Shropshire Light Infantry will return home from Karachi.

VACANCIES IN DENTAL CORPS

Applications are invited from dental surgeons for appointment to a limited number of commissions in the Army Dental Corps. Candidates will be selected for these commissions without undergoing competitive examination. They must be registered under the Dentists Acts or Medical Acts and be not over the age of 28 years. Successful candidates will, in the first instance, be given short-service commissions for six years, at the end of which period they will retire with a gratuity of £1,000 unless they have been granted permanent commissions. Permanent commissions will be given to officers selected from among those who wish to make the Army their permanent career. Full particulars of the conditions of service and emoluments, also form of application, may be obtained from the Director, Army Dental Service, the War Office, London, S.W.1.

SONJA HENIE'S NEW FILM

A whole new world of joy and wonder comes winging from the snow-silvered Norseland with America's newest and sweetest sweetheart, Sonja Henie's appearance, in "Happy Landing" which opens today at the King's Theatre.

This lithe, statically graceful Norse nymph, who astonished the entire world with her skill as a skater and an actress, is radiantly reunited with her "One In A Million" sweetheart, Don Ameche, in their third hit.

Surpassing the breathless sensations of "Thin Ice," singing scintillating songs by Pokrass and Yellen, Sonja veritably brings happy tidings and thrills as she has never thrilled before.

JANE WITHERS IN TOWN

There is wild excitement and cheers as Jane Withers rides down the home stretch in "Checkers," her newest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, but what will thrill most of all is the grand human story, the uproarious fun, the aching thrills and the bright enchantment that come once in very young life.

Jane recently was voted one of the six most popular stars of today and in this story of galloping hoots and gallant hearts she's at her very best.

Stuart Edwin and Una Merkel play the lovebirds in a hilarious seven-year romance, and Marvin Stephens, the bad boy of "Borrowing Trouble," is the first "crush" of Jane's screen career.

"Checkers" opens at the Alhambra Theatre tomorrow.

SWEDISH SKATING STAR'S LATEST

Sonja Henie and Don Ameche in "Happy Landing" with Jean Hersholt, Ethel Merman and Cesar Romero showing today at the King's Theatre.

JOY OF LIVING

A distinctly "different" type of musical drama is heralded in "Joy of Living," starring Irene Dunne and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. with new Jerome Kern melodies woven into the sprightly plot.

The story deals with a stormy romance between Miss Dunne, a popular musical comedy star whose huge income is lavished on her selfish family, and Fairbanks, a self-confident young man who has disinherited his rich relatives to become a sort of sea vagabond, who preaches a doctrine of attaining happiness by doing what you want to do.

"Joy of Living" opens at the Queen's Theatre today.

BEHIND PRISON WALLS

How a girl imperils her life and all her hopes of freedom and happiness in a desperate effort to keep from ruining the career of the man she loves, forms the powerful theme of "Condemned Women," in which Sally Eilers, Louis Hayward and Ann Shirley have principal roles.

Most of the absorbing action of the story is laid within the grim walls of a women's penitentiary, to which Miss Eilers is sent to serve a three-year sentence, and where Hayward, a young psychiatrist, is assigned to study the inmates. Their meetings develop into romance.

Told by the sympathetic warden that a marriage would wreck Hayward's future, Miss Eilers accepts an important part in a daring escape plot as the only way to disillusion him.

"Condemned Women" opens at the Alhambra Theatre today.

WHO TOLD YOU THAT?

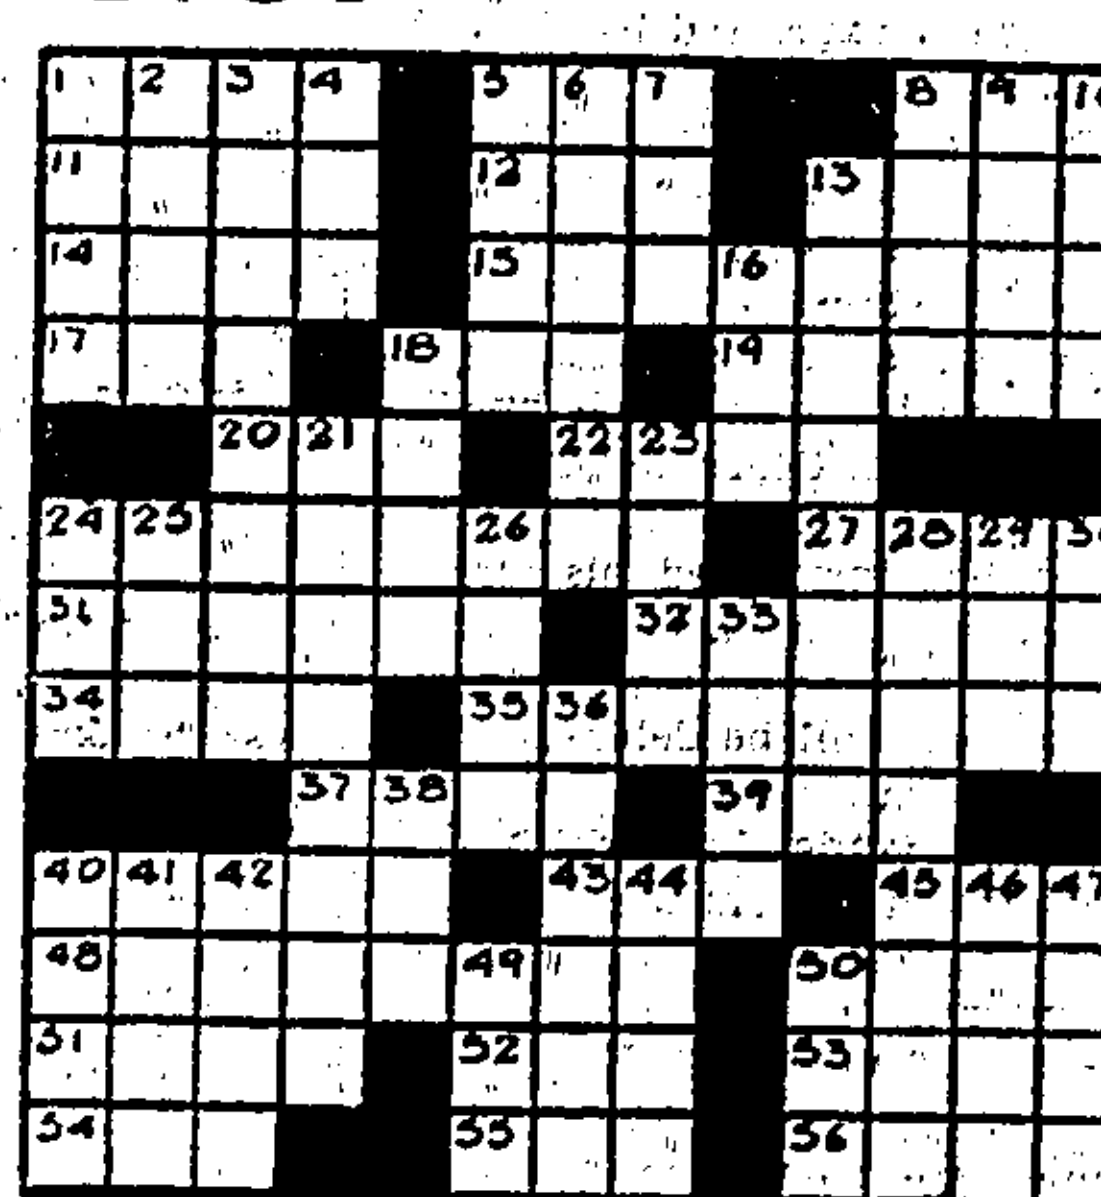

"Come on, let's get married," said the boy. "It will be quite easy because my father's a minister."

"Okay," replied the girl. "Let's try it, anyway. My father's a lawyer."

Peiping, June 30.

An undisclosed number of troop trains carrying Japanese troops and artillery, arrived at Shanhakuan from the Tientsin area yesterday and today.

This movement of troops from North China is causing much speculation, but it is believed to be connected with the movement of Chinese guerrillas from points northwest of Peiping towards Shanhakuan, with the avowed object of severing communications between Peiping and Mukden. —(Reuter).

London, June 30.

Concessions are contained, however, in an inspired article by Virginio Gayda in Giornale d'Italia, in which it is stated that General Franco has instructed his airmen to discriminate in favour of British ships when bombing Spanish ports. Local Chinese To Abstain From Meat

Following the example of their compatriots in China many Chinese residents here are preparing to take a vegetable diet on July 7 in observance of the first anniversary of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, says Central News.

To ensure that all Chinese will do so, the meat and fowl dealers have been requested by various patriotic bodies to suspend business on that day, whilst restaurants have been asked to serve only vegetable food.

The money saved by taking a vegetable diet will be contributed to the national war chest.

ST. LOUIS BOYS GO FOR MARCH

TRADITIONAL OUTING

Yesterday afternoon the repose of Kowloon City's inhabitants was somewhat disturbed by the unusual sight of a very long column of boys, four deep, sweeping past to the accompaniment of martial airs. Perhaps many were relieved to find that the imposing array was not of troops going to war, but of schoolboys out on holiday; and that the large silk flag at their head bore nothing more stirring than the legend: St. Louis School.

The boys were having their traditional "outing" prior to the breaking up of the school year early in July.

Their route led in part through the city thoroughfares of Hong Kong and Kowloon. On reaching the terminus of the walk, La Salle's magnificent College building, the hikers found strength enough to have a "look see" at the College.

Substantial refreshments were then taken in preparation for the trip home, and photographs were taken just to record the happy event.

Later La Salle College was evacuated and left in possession of the Boy Scouts who had prepared for the entertainment of their guests.

On the way home a flying visit was paid to the Maryknoll Convent School.

C.B.C. RELIEF EFFORTS

Following the night fete which the Chinese Bathing Club held last Saturday to raise funds for the 5th Route Army, during which a sum of $1035 was collected, the Club has decided that a minimum fee of 20 cents per person will be collected from non-members admitted to the Club for swimming today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Visitors' tickets sold previously cannot be used during those three days.

All such collections will be donated for the relief of the families of slain soldiers.

The Club's pavilion will be closed on July 7 to mark the first anniversary of hostilities.

HONG KONG, JULY 1, 1938.

SCARES FOR SOUTH CHINA

SOME PEOPLE seem to delight in assuring us that large scale military operations are likely to take place in South China in the near future, culminating with interrupting the communications along the Canton-Hankow railway.

Recently Japanese agents in Hong Kong reported that Japanese propaganda was not strong enough here, and in comparison with the foreign newspapers in the north of China, this certainly is the case. As one reads these papers one almost weeps for those kindly Japanese.

Surely the same view is that all this talk of attacking South China is designed to keep as many Chinese troops in the South as possible deflecting them from the Wuhan area so that the Japanese may have a greater chance of success on the Yangtze.

PESSIMISTS are declaring that owing to the bombing of the Kowloon-Canton railway trade with the interior will greatly suffer for the next two years. This may be so, but it savours of insidious propaganda by the Japanese, the wish being father to the thought. It is a well-known fact that there is a risk sending up freight by rail to the interior on account of the frequent bombings of the railway. At the same time the risk means CAN is only a fraction of that taken by Britain in the Great War with all the submarine attacks that took place.

We feel certain that ways and means can be found for the transportation of freight into the interior other than the railway. Roads can be used, and there are good communications by water transport right into the interior. If traders sit down and do nothing then trade with South China will not be good, but on the other hand, if communications are organized then a considerable trade will accrue and there is no reason for pessimism.

IT SEEMS OBVIOUS to everybody that at the end of this undeclared war China will require finance, and she is sure to obtain it. Japan will also want finance; will she get it?

So far as we can judge, there do not appear to be large scale operations in South China in the near future. If at all, and judging from the state of affairs on the Yangtze and further North, the Japanese forces are being kept fully occupied winning empty victories.

What is astonishing the world is the part the guerillas are playing in the north of China: under the able direction of the 8th Route Army and the Central Government. They are co-operating together, and the Japanese are merely holding various strong points along the railways. Either side of these are in the hands of guerillas, who are repeatedly harassing the Japanese communications—a thoroughly unpleasant state of affairs for the Japanese.

WORKSHOP FOR REFUGEES

Canton, June 30. Plans are being made by the local Refugee Relief Association, headed by General Wu Te-chen, Chairman of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, for the establishment of a workshop to train the war victims here in various trades.

The Association is also planning to establish a training institute for disabled refugees. (Central News).

CHUNG SING SOCIETY Gala Tonight

PROGRAMME FOR THREE DAYS

An interesting aquatic programme, in which many well-known local swimmers, including W. Lawrence, Norman Lee, Lau Po-hei, Mak Wai-ming, Miss Yeung Sau-king, Miss Leung Wing-hang and Miss Chan Yuk-king, will give exhibitions, has been arranged by the Chung Sing Benevolent Society for their three-day gala and concert commencing tonight at Kennedy Town in aid of funds for Canton and Hong Kong refugees. The gala will be continued on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Last night the ceremony of "giving life" to the dragon and lion, which will take prominent parts in the gala programme, was performed in the presence of a large number of spectators.

Mt. Lau King-ting gave "life" to the lion by dotting the eyeball with a vermilion pen. Mr. Lau said: "The waking lion is now given life. Our nation is beginning to rise and ten thousand people are of one mind. Peace is predicted." Tonight's opening ceremony will take place at 7 o'clock when the Chairman and Vice-Chairman will deliver speeches.

The programme is as follows:—Opening song. Lantern parade by members of the Society.

100 metres back stroke by Miss Leung Wing-hang. Slaking event. 400 metres free style by Lawrence. Somersault event. 200 metres free style by Miss D. Hunt.

Back stroke by Miss Leung Yuk-fong. 50 metres free style by Miss Leung Yuk-chun. Dragon and lion display: fireworks.

SATURDAY

Opening song. Dragon boat display in moon light by members of the Chinese Junk Guild.

100 metres breast stroke by Miss Chan Yuk-king. 100 metres breast stroke by R. Norman. 400 metres free style by Mak Wai-wing.

Boxing event. 100 metres free style by Miss Chan Wun-king. 100 metres back stroke by Lau Po-hei.

Derby race. Dragon display: fireworks. Water polo match: Chung Sing v. R.A.

SUNDAY

Opening song. Fancy diving. Dragon boat display. 100 metres free style by Norman Lee.

100 metres back stroke by Miss Yeung Sau-king. 100 metres free style by Miss Yeung Sau-king.

"Jumping over pagoda" event. Walking the greasy pole. Diving, and lion display: fireworks. Ladies' water polo match.

CHUNG SING CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

The Chung Sing Benevolent Society's canvassing campaign for members closed last night with a total of $8,182. Mr. Lau King-ting, Vice-Chairman of the Society, heading the list with $1,370.

Mr. Lau has also been able to get General Pei Chung-hsi to join the Society as an Honorary President.

GERMAN DIES OF CHOLERA

OUTBREAK ON BOARD SHIP

The German liner, s.s. Assuan, is now in quarantine as the result of the discovery of an outbreak of cholera aboard the ship.

A member of the crew, M. I. Scheffer, is now dead. He was admitted to the Infectious Diseases Hospital on Friday last week. Three other members of the crew named Eggert, Brandt, and Behrand are also in hospital. The first-named is in a serious condition.

SEAMAN'S FUNERAL

The funeral of M. I. Scheffer, took place at the Japanese Crematorium yesterday, the body being cremated after a short service conducted by Rev. K. F. Erny of the Basel Mission.

Members of the crew of two other German ships in port, the Tirpitz and the Ursula, attended the funeral. Others present were: Herr H. Gipperich, German Consul-General, Messrs. E. Hess, H. J. Jessen, H. Luering, A. Gelewsky, Liemann, Mr. Gerloff, Mr. Arns, Mr. Nogitzek.

Wreaths were sent by the following:—Herr H. Gipperich, Arthur Gelewsky, Die Arbeitkameraden, Die Ursula Rickmers, Jensen & Co., Hamburg Amerika Line, N.S.D.A.P. Auslands-Organisation Ortsgruppe, Hong Kong, Die Arbeitkameraden, Die Assuan, F. Feld & Company, Herr Scheffer, Die Arbeitkameraden, Die Tirpitz, Die Deutsche Arbeitsfront Ortsgruppe Hong Kong.

Germany And The Jews

STATELESS CONDITION IN THE FUTURE

REGISTER OF PROPERTY

Dr. Stuckhart, Secretary of State at the Ministry of the Interior, foreshadows legislation which will prevent Jews from acquiring German nationality by birth, legitimation, or marriage.

Jews at present living in Germany may be allowed to retain their German nationality (Staatsangehörigkeit) but children born to them after the new law has come into force would presumably be Stateless. Similar regulations would be appropriate, Dr. Stuckhart thought, for gypsies, says The Times.

Pressure on the Jews is being intensified daily in other ways. Recent police raids on cafes and pensions frequented by Jews, and warnings to "Aryans" against associating with Jews, are attributable to a desire to enforce the social segregation of the Jewish community—a desire which hitherto has been less evident in the great cities than in the countryside.

To facilitate the compulsory "Aryanization" of businesses the Government, under a recent decree of Field-Marshal Göring, are compiling a register of Jewish property, from which the official instructions indicate. Little may be omitted except pots and pans.

Foreign Jews come under the decree in so far as they have property in Germany, but whether in practice they will be compelled to make a return of their property is not yet known.

Jews LEAVING

Jews are required to make a return of the total value of their property exceeds (without deduction of claims) 5,000 marks—that is, a little over £400, at the present rate of exchange.

They must report their land forests, and industrial property of all kinds; property used for the practice of scientific, artistic, literary, or educational activities; their stocks and shares, bank accounts, and permanent usufructs and payments of any kind. Portable objects intended exclusively for personal use and household goods need not be reported, unless they are luxury articles.

Articles made of precious metals, jewelry, and other luxury articles are to be reported regardless of value, and the same holds in good for objects of art and art collections.

Copyrights, protected and unprotected inventions, patents, rights in trade marks and in

GOVERNOR BROADCASTS FROM Z.B.W.

as has Wireless Broadcasting. As I listened across the Atlantic to the description coming "over the air" of the Coronation last year, I began to feel—I believe in common with many thousands of others—that I actually was in the Abbey, a witness of that solemn, beautiful service; and when later I heard the roaring cheers as the Royal procession went by, they were so real that it might have been just round the next corner and about to appear before my eyes; so utterly can one be transported, in imagination by this miraculous invention, that the body itself seems to have followed the mind.

PSYCHOLOGICAL MIRACLE.

Or take again those rare occasions when His Majesty the King broadcasts to his peoples around the globe. As we listen, does not it begin to seem as though the King were in the midst of us or, at the farthest, next door? To me, at any rate, at those times the few thousand miles between are but as a room's width. The vivid, personal touch of the Broadcast has wrought a psychological miracle such as the mechanised processes of the electric telegraph never suggested.

But there is another and a more appealing aspect of this miracle. In one sense the wireless has shrunk up the world for us: in another it has enlarged the field of our daily experience to the point that everyone who makes use of its magic carpet can call himself in truth a Citizen of the World; every owner of a "set" may boast that the world is his oyster; and television is rapidly forging an even more efficient knife with which to open that immense mollusc.

One speaks of such things lightly, but what do they not import? The noblest use to which Broadcasting can aspire is to be the means of spreading Truth throughout the world and so to serve as the handmaid of Peace. One has only to look at the nations whose news services are the freest to recognize in them the most peace-loving among the peoples of the Earth. "Mercy and Truth are met together; Righteousness and Peace have kissed each other."

DESIRE FOR TRUTH

Could there be a better, an apter, text for our thoughts, and more especially for our hopes, on this anniversary in these troublous times. Like every powerful instrument for good the wireless can, as we know, be abused to the world's harm and loss, but such methods recoil upon their users and there is no real need for fear on that score. There is an ancient maxim "Magna est veritas et praevalent" which has long stood the test of time.

The desire for Truth lies deep in the hearts of civilised men and not all the ideologies in the world will root it out or smother it. In many parts of the world that desire is being thwarted, nevertheless, the time will come when Truth will prevail and, hand in hand with her, Peace will come again into her own.

And in that struggle Truth will have no more powerful or loyal ally than the Broadcaster.

"GOING VERY STRONG"

As I have said already, this is a birthday party. The Hong Kong Broadcasting Committee is ten years old and is, one is glad to know, going very strong. It may not seem a great age, but when one realizes that the great B.B.C. itself will only be sixteen this year, ten years carry quite an air of maturity. The Committee is beginning its eleventh year amid circumstances which have brought this part of the British Empire very much into the limelight, and shown it in a setting which we here, like all other friends of humanity, hope most earnestly will soon cease to be.

But grave though that thought is, and heartfelt as is that wish, we need not dwell on it tonight. This is an occasion on which the Hong Kong Broadcasting Committee has every right to feel proud and happy. No wise man—or committee—tries to please all tastes all the time; for all listeners there are moments when they are impelled to a twiddle of the thumb and "silence like a pout comes to heal the blows of sound."

Tyrants they are, of course, these Committee men, but theirs is a benignant tyranny.

Like the Western American waiter in the story, they stand, pistol at the ear of the over-pernickery client, and say "You'll take hash." But the point is that the hash is so good that the restaurant becomes fuller and fuller; and, moreover, the cook will always "season to taste."

So, as I say, the Committee, with whom I associate their founders and past members, and besides the Committee, their able staff and many talented helpers may feel both proud and happy tonight. For they cannot but know that the service which is their care is one that has the warm approval not only of its hosts of subscribers in this Colony but also elsewhere in far distant places. British folk in Australia and Chinese in Vancouver are loud and frequent in their praises of Hong Kong Broadcasting; and tonight, throughout a circle radiating as far as that and further, there will be many who will echo my congratulations on this anniversary. And they will add to them, as I do, their warm good wishes for the continued success of the Committee during its second decade.

THE COLONIAL SECRETARY

The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith said:—I suppose that the chief reason I have been asked to take part in today's celebrations is that I happen to have been the first Chairman of the Broadcasting Committee for Z.B.W. Actually I feel rather an impostor because ten years ago today I was on leave in England and I therefore don't know much about those very early recorded programmes of which you have heard. It is true that when I came back to the Colony in the autumn of 1928 as Postmaster General I did suggest that we ought to have a sort of local pocket edition of the B.B.C. At a later date I found that two enthusiasts, the Hon. Mr. Shenton and Bob Sutherland of Jardines, had already been thinking out something on the same lines.

We had a series of tiffins together and gradually decided on a number of names to be invited and finally in about July or August 1929 twelve gentlemen were invited to join such a committee with terms of reference "to assist in the improvement of programmes broadcast by wireless in the Colony." I won't go through the list of the names of that first committee; Ben Wylie is the sole survivor of the "foundation members."

THE ORIGINAL STUDIO

The original studio was a simple affair in the Post Office. I see Eeyore in the "Morning Post" describes it as a sort of indoor tent, but it was not quite so primitive as that; there were curtains all round, but they were scientifically placed in order to improve the effect on the microphone. We had a staff of one lady who borrowed the records, announced the programmes, occasionally played the piano and in fact did most of the work on the programme side.

I don't claim that the result was very good. For one thing the receiving licences were quite few in those days and it was not easy to persuade a hard-hearted Government to give a heavy subsidy from the general taxpayer for the benefit of a few listeners. And for this reason there was no "queuing up" for auditions as I understand happens today; we had to rely chiefly on well-meaning enthusiasts content to air their talents for a few sandwiches and a cup of coffee. At the same time I think the foundations were soundly laid with that mixture of Government and unofficial control that we

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES

Benny Lynch Outclasses Jack Jurich

Glasgow, June 30. Fighting at catchweights, Benny Lynch, the British and world fly-weight champion, beat Jackie Jurich of America here to-night, the referee stopping the bout in the twelfth round of their scheduled 15-round fight.

A crowd of 10,000 witnessed the fight. Lynch weighed in at 8 st. 6½ lbs., while Jurich tipped the scales at 7 st. 12½ lbs.

The American's fine footwork kept him out of danger of clever straight punches and long lefts. In the seventh round, Lynch chased Jurich round the ring. Then the American engaged Lynch in toe-toe exchanges, but went down for a count of eight from a terrific right. Hardly had he risen when he was sent down again for eight. He showed amazing pluck and got up once more.

In the eighth round, the American was twice down for nine. Then Lynch eased up. In the twelfth round, Lynch landed a right to the jaw, and while the time-keeper was counting, the referee stopped the fight. —(Reuter).

AWARDED KNOCK-OUT

London, June 30. Benny Lynch has officially been awarded a knock-out against Jurich, the latter having failed to beat the count. —(Reuter).

HENLEY ENTERS NEW PHASE

Artisan Scullers Admitted

London, June 30. The Henley Regatta has entered a new phase. Under the revised Amateur Status Rule, artisan scullers are allowed to compete for the first time.

A strong north-westerly wind made scientific rowing difficult yesterday.

In the Diamond Sculls, the American champion, J. Burk beat the artisan, W. Horwood, of Chiswick, easily in 8 mins. 51 secs. The Metropolitan Police beat Barclays Bank in a head in the Thames Cup. —(Reuter).

CRICKET MIDDLESEX WIN BY TEN WICKETS

H. Parks played a fine innings of 83 runs at Lord's recently, when the match between Middlesex and Sussex was concluded. This enabled Sussex to avoid the indignity of an innings defeat, but Middlesex were left to make only two runs in order to win the match, and they beat Sussex by 10 wickets, says The Times.

Sussex, forced to follow on 313 runs behind on the previous evening, had put up a fight brave enough to raise at least some hopes that they might yet save the game. These hopes, however, soon dwindled when, at 135, J. Parks, who had led the recovery, chopped a ball into his wicket, and three runs later W. Cornford, reaching forward, scooped up an easy catch to Gray at forward short-leg.

R. G. Stainton, in the first innings, had shown that he knew how to deal with a crisis, but this time Stainton quickly chopped a leg spinner into the hands of Robertson in the slips.

THE BOWLING HIT
James Langridge was out first ball, playing too soon at an off-break, and this meant that Sims, who was now bowling really well, in eight overs had taken four wickets for 14 runs.

Indeed, it then looked as though Sims might easily run through the side, but H. Parks, who in the first innings had faced a similar situation with great success, once again came to the rescue of his side.

Hitting a full-toss and a half-volley from R. W. V. Robins to the leg boundary, Parks at once took the initiative away from the bowlers, while at the other end Cox attacked Sims so successfully that he drove that bowler for two 4's in a row before hitting another short ball from Robins for 6.

DISLOCATED FINGER
Cox then became quieter, but Parks went on from strength to strength, and gradually it began to look as though the Middlesex spin bowlers would lose not only the initiative but their control of length as well.

Sims unfortunately dislocated a finger when trying to make a return catch from Parks, and the ball was travelling so fast that even though it had been partly checked in its flight by Sims, it reached the boundary with ease.

The fact that Sims had to leave the field was a great handicap to the Middlesex attack, but it is only fair to state that before this accident happened Parks and Cox had collared the bowling completely.

Parks completed his 50 in as many minutes and the stand for the sixth wicket had put on 120 runs in an hour and five minutes before a rising ball glanced off the shoulder of Cox's bat into the hands of Robins. Soon after the luncheon interval Parks fell to catch in the slips, and then it remained, only to see if Sussex would avoid the innings defeat.

Little buzzers in tin cans were placed in the water, and Professor

DERBYSHIRE DISMISSED FOR 151

London, June 30. Playing the Australian cricket tourists at Chesterfield, Derbyshire were yesterday dismissed for 151 runs. T. S. Worthington was top-scorer with 67, F. A. Ward taking five for 45.

The Australians replied with 191 for one at close of play. J. H. Fingleton was sent back for 23, but W. A. Brown hit up another century and was 104 not out. C. L. Badcock was also undefeated with 59.

The following were the scores at close of play yesterday in first-class cricket matches: Gloucester 98; Essex 324 for 6. Sussex 428 for 6 v. Glamorgan. Kent 58; Leicester 195 and 74 for 1.

Lancashire 207 for 3 v. Hampshire. Rain stopped play. M.C.C. 112 for 3. Cambridge 370. Notts 432; Somerset 69 for 0. Surrey 395; Oxford 51 for 0. Yorkshire 342 for 6 v. Worcester. —(Reuter).

HAMMOND AGAIN

London, June 30. Walter Hammond, who captained England in the First and Second cricket Tests against Australia, has again been selected to lead the England XI in the Third Test, to be played at Manchester on July 8. —(Reuter).

SINGAPORE RUGBY RECRUIT

Rosslyn Park Player Joins Municipality

Singapore's civilian rugby fifteen will be strengthened next season by one of London's finest players. Mr. J. B. Potter, Rosslyn Park's first choice for scrum half for the past two-and-a-half seasons, has been appointed Financial Assistant to the Municipal Engineer, Singapore, and will arrive in Malaya by the P. and O. liner Corfu on July 29.

Mr. Potter is a product of Cumberland rugby, and he has played for that county in the championship on 18 occasions.

Coming South, he soon earned a place in the Rosslyn Park first team, and, even with their huge membership, his club will find it difficult to replace such a whole-hearted player.

Macgregor-Morris and his colleagues discovered at what distance the sound could be heard and its direction.

IN-OPEN SEA

After experiments on the reservoir at Elstree trials, were made in the open sea, in a drifter, in conjunction with the Admiralty.

The new directional hydrophone which was achieved was proved to be three times as sensitive as anything hitherto known, and before the war ended several thousands were in use.

Professor Macgregor-Morris, who has made a special study of the problems of illumination, has also played an important part in the development of the cathode ray oscillograph.

No more nerves?

Not since I started with SANATOGEN

Nervousness, fatigue, forgetfulness and many other symptoms often hamper the full enjoyment of life. You can become fit and healthy again with a course of Sanatogen.

Sanatogen contains just those elements which give new health and energy to the run-down organism in a very digestible form. It strengthens the nerves, renews the red blood cells and thus gives new strength and stamina to the whole system.

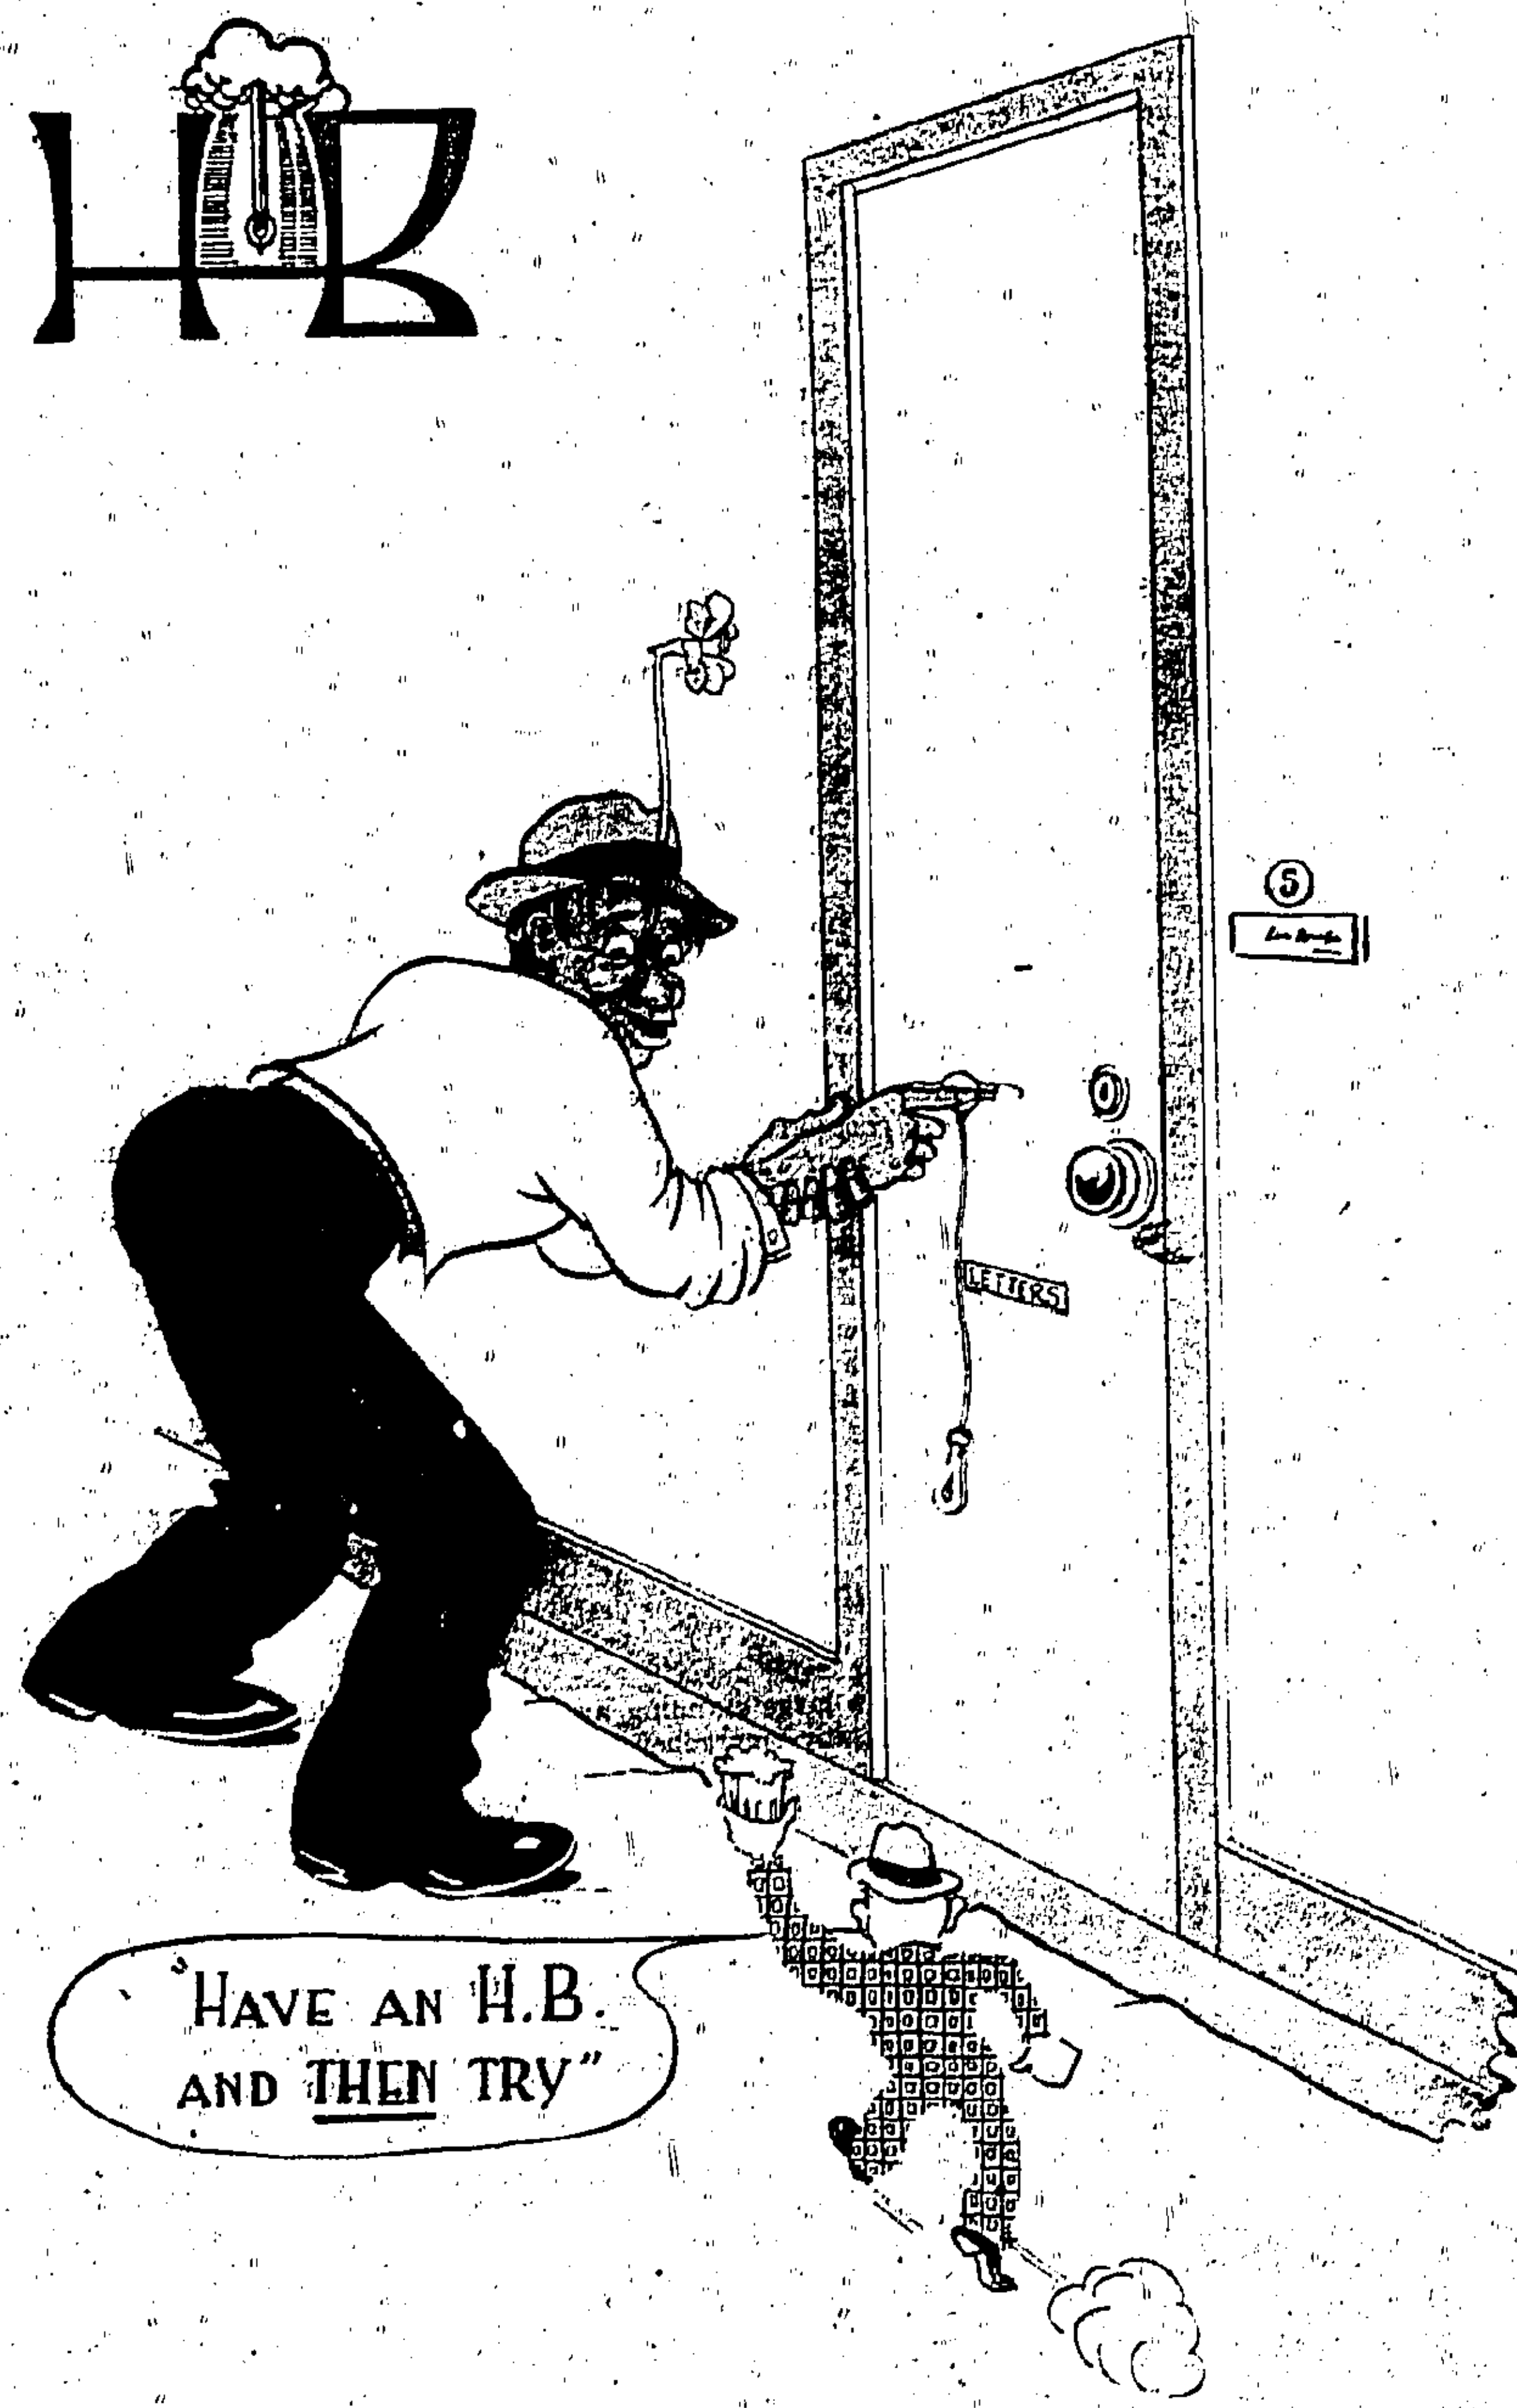

Prof. Tobold, a well-known European authority, writes:

"Those who are suffering from nervous weakness will soon regain their former strength and joy of life."

Try Sanatogen at once. Buy it to-day and see how quickly Health and Vitality return.

SINGAPORE HOSPITAL
IMPROVEMENT

Singapore patients with fractured limbs held rigidly in plaster will shortly be released from the agony of prickly heat.

Surgeons will be able to operate in comfort, instead of being bathed in perspiration.

Sufferers from such complaints as asthma will be treated in a suitably dry atmosphere.

These are three of the benefits that will accrue from the installation of air-conditioned wards and operating theatre at Singapore's general hospital.

Tenders for the installation, which is believed to be one of the first of its kind in the Far East, have been let, and the work is expected to be finished in August.

Two wards and the operating theatre are to be air-conditioned following the successful experiment of air-conditioning the X-ray department.

About 20 beds will be available in the air-conditioned wards, and

SAYINGS OF THE WEEK

I render thanks to God every day that I live in the present circumstances.—The Pope.

The gambling mentality is notoriously incapable of appreciating the mathematical doctrine of chances.—The Bishop of Liverpool.

Smartness is largely a question of opinion.—Mr. Horé-Bellah.

It seems to me a most precarious argument to urge that because the Apostolic ministry in the beginning was entirely masculine therefore for all time it must remain masculine.—Dean W. R. Matthews.

It would not do to have a Bishop of London of eighty-four or eighty-five.—The Bishop of London.

No young people in former days have had to face such a mass sex appeal as is evident today in books, plays, music, and, above all, in the cinema.—Dr. Drummond Shiels.

LETTERS MISSING IN N.Z. BIG LOSS TO SCIENCE

IRREPARABLE loss to science is feared as the result of the disappearance in New Zealand of valuable letters written by the late Lord Rutherford to his mother.

They were of great value to his two biographers as they traced the great scientist's progress in England after he left New Zealand. They made reference to many of his inventions and scientific achievements.

Lord Rutherford's mother lived at New Plymouth, where the letters, packed in a case, were lodged with a firm of solicitors.

When the firm's offices were recently demolished the case was moved to temporary premises, and when the case was opened to send the letters to England it was found they had disappeared.

GOVERNOR BROADCASTS ON BIRTHDAY OF Z.B.W.

somehow as a nation seem to be able to make work.

ONE TRANSMITTER

With only one transmitting station one of our earliest problems was to allot the proper proportion of hours between the European and the Chinese programmes, a problem that is, I suppose, much easier now that Z.B.W. is also working simultaneously. There were also, as there must always be, with any body controlling broadcasting, the varying claims of recorded programmes, local relays, relays from London and studio items, not to say the endless conflict between jazz and the classics.

To strike a balance that will satisfy I will not say all listeners but a fair proportion of unprejudiced listeners would need the judicial insight of a Solomon with the tact of a diplomat, but I venture the opinion that the present Committee does it extremely well; and, whatever its local critics may say, I know of listeners in Shanghai, Hankow and Malaya who agree with that opinion.

I congratulate them on ten successful and progressive years of work and wish them even greater success in the future.

POSTMASTER
GENERAL

Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones said:—
I feel rather like the little boy who was asked to say his "little piece on his birthday," when he said:—"But it's my birthday—why should I have to do lessons today?" Unfortunately I am not a little boy and it is not my tenth birthday. But I can truly say that of what has happened during Z.B.W.'s ten years of growth, others better fitted than I may tell you; it gives me the greatest privilege and pleasure to be permitted, as Chairman of the Broadcasting Committee, to greet all our listeners tonight on this happy birthday.

Every Anniversary should be an occasion for stock-taking and even more so for looking into the future. You will all have taken stock of us very carefully. In fact, many of you have voiced your criticism, either damning or laudatory, in the Press and otherwise. We all at Z.B.W. thank those who have taken the trouble to voice their opinions, whatever they may be. I naturally prefer the constructive criticisms, but even a stupid "strafe" helps us to judge the temper of at least a portion of our audience and from all of these we hope to be able to take measures to build up a bigger and better Z.B.W. in the years to come.

THEN AND NOW

Ten years ago there was no organised broadcasting in Hong Kong, and there was no Empire Broadcasting. You were dependent, therefore, for the latest news on the brief laconic telegrams which appeared from day to day in the Press. Now we serve you out news at mid-day and evening, straight from the horse's mouth. You could even hear the whistle of the train as it passed by Trent Bridge when Paynter made his famous score in the first Test Match. What will you hear, and see, in ten years' time? I venture to prophesy that by 1948 sound without vision will be as dead as the silent film, and that unless you can see the Bradman of that day hooking a ball off the leg stump for six, you won't believe the Announcer; the annoyance of atmospherics and interference will be even more out of date than the flicker of the old time flicks.

MR. L. H. KING

My Engineers have warned me against being too optimistic in this talk, but I know something about them; they are men of great humility but have intense faith in their science; without them you could not have today this ten years' old child. Few of you realize the debt which you owe to a great electrical engineer Mr. L. H. King, who with the aid of a few devoted helpers, and in the face of incredible odds, built out of practically nothing the station and equipment which makes Z.B.W. what it is today. Although he has, most unfortunately had to retire, because of ill health within the last few months, I know he above all will wish us many happy returns today, thank God, we still have with us many of his original devoted band of helpers.

ALL THOSE WHO HELP

These include not only the engineers, but the artists, the staff and the Committee. The Artists, you hear and can enjoy or swear at, according to your taste, or lack of taste. The Staff and Committee you know little of; no doubt you suspect them of untold villainies and obviously to you they must be entirely lacking in common sense.

But they work day in and day out for your pleasure, giving up hours when you are safe at home in carpet slippers to provide you with something—something to appreciate, something to laugh at, something to swear at, something to think about.

With their help, as in the past, I am safe in promising you that on his 21st birthday this child Z.B.W. will have grown into a man that you and they can be proud of.

MR. F. K. GARTON

Mr. Garton said:—
I little thought when carrying out experiments in Broadcasting just over ten years ago, that today I should be called upon to give reminiscences of those earlier days. The first Broadcasting steps were made in 1927—we were then feeling our way—and it was not until June of 1928 that Broadcasting took shape as a living system. I had at that time, little idea of the strides which were to be made, although, of course, I did anticipate certain developments consequent upon the laws of natural progress.

Our earlier efforts took up a lot of time and patience, and were not without misgivings. The transmitting equipment was primarily designed for telegraph work, was of very low power, and not particularly suitable for broadcasting purposes. However, we made the best of it and after a few modifications we managed to procure fairly presentable results. Our greatest bug-bear was the low power in the aerial with consequent small transmitted energy and resultant feeble signal strength.

I remember on one occasion—full of anxiety—I was testing with a Radio instrument near metal materials—water pipes, etc.—in the vicinity of the transmitter—which at that time was installed in "The Eyle" No. 3, The Peak—when the Chief Engineer who had arrived unbeknown to me, suddenly remarked:—"Yes! that's where your energy is going—down the drain pipe."

TOLERANT LISTENERS

And so, we struggled on from day to day endeavouring to squeeze the last ounce of efficiency out of the transmitter—we erected different aerials, tried various earth arrangements, and did a multitude of things with a view to providing the best we could with the available apparatus.

But we hadn't much to work on, and couldn't expect elephantine results, out of a gnat power. However, our listeners—very few compared with now—were extremely tolerant, and helped a great deal with their constructive criticism.

In those days I was a sort of general factotum. Had to look after the transmitter, arrange programmes, and do the announcing as well. True, I had a colleague to assist me, but nevertheless I had to carry the microphone baby, and for about six months—under the call sign of G O W—mine was the only voice heard on the air. This went on until one day a daily newspaper referred to me in their Radio column as a—"wind broken horse with an Oxford accent," after which my visits to the Microphone were less frequent. I have just mentioned G O W. This call sign was changed to Z.B.W. on 1st February 1929 and has been in use ever since.

COMPLING PROGRAMMES

Compiling programmes wasn't all honey even in those times. We had no piano and no artists—only records, and these were graciously supplied free of charge by the various music companies in the Colony. Looking back, I wonder what the quality of our transmissions was really like—I shudder to think. Sometimes, in fact quite often, we got in a jam through lack of programme material. I remember a great stand-by for filling in a programme was the "Rienzi Overture." I think that went on the air two or three times a week for months—anyway, the records became so badly worn that it became necessary when playing to squirt oil on the surface under the needle so as to lessen the drag of the pickup and the noticeable slowing down of the gramophone motor. And, of course, the programmes were more often than not a bone of contention, as they still are. I well recollect during one of the programmes being asked by the Chief Engineer over the telephone what the name of the last record was.

Fear Mexico
Will Become BattlegroundU.S. SUPPORT FOR
CARDENAS SOUGHT

Washington, June 30.

Forty-two leaders of Peace societies, together with clergymen and trade unionists, have petitioned President Roosevelt for support for a democratically elected Mexican Government.

They expressed the fear that foreign funds, and propaganda were now being used to stir up revolt against President Cardenas and make Mexico the Spain of the New World.

The petitioners asked President Roosevelt whether it was not a fact that the United States had taken financial sanctions against Mexico, possibly on account of pressure from Great Britain, and they called on President Roosevelt to strengthen President Cardenas against intervention, "whether from Germany, Italy, Japan, or the armed representatives of British oil interests."

The signers of the petition are predominantly trade unionists.—(Reuter).

PORK SAUSAGES FILLED WITH OPIUM

Marseilles, June 30.

Pork sausages do not always contain pork.

This discovery was made on the waterfront at Marseilles yesterday, when French Customs authorities seized 94 lbs. of pork sausages which contained not meat, but opium.

The sausages were part of a consignment landed in Marseilles from a Yugo-Slav steamer.

The man to whom the sausages were consigned has been arrested. Customs officials' suspicions were first aroused by the colour of the sausages.—(Reuter).

JAPANESE PLANES
OVER CANTON

Canton, June 30.

The local populace was again disturbed this morning when 14 Japanese planes broke into the city limits and cruised overhead for more than 10 minutes. They took cover for fear of another air carnage.

Chinese anti-aircraft guns directed brisk fire at the invading machines which, however, departed without dropping any bombs.

It is learned that Shikwan, in north Kwangtung, was bombed by the Japanese planes. More than 20 missiles were released but the resultant damage has not yet been ascertained.

Nine other Japanese aircraft, in the meantime, dropped over 10 bombs at Lokchong station on the Canton-Hankow Railway Railway.—(Central News).

"Don't be angry with me, Sir" I replied—which was the title.

"I'll be blank blank wild with you if you put that thing on again" he said, slamming down the telephone.

POPULAR STATION

The announcing was carried out at the transmitter building on the Peak until the December of 1928 when activities commenced in the newly acquired Studio in the Post Office Building; later on—in 1932—the Studio was transferred to Gloucester Building where it is still situated. In the year 1931, a new transmitter was obtained from England, and, after four shifts round, has finally come to anchor in the new Station in Kowloon. The old and original transmitter throughout the years maintained a constant service only to be pensioned off from broadcasting when recently superseded by another transmitter.

In 1935 a short wave transmitter, ZBW3 on 9525 kc/s., was installed, and, from the amount of fan mail received from all over the world, it would appear that Hong Kong is a very popular station for short wave listeners.

And so, we have passed from the old "Rienzi Overture" days to the present, with our air-conditioned Studios, simultaneous English and Chinese programmes, the interception of Daventry programmes and re-broadcasting them to the rest of the world. Time moves on, and what was, metaphorically speaking, an acorn, turns into a sturdy oak.
